

Parron Hall has proud traditions

For over 50 years, Parron Hall Office Interiors in San Diego has delivered quality results for their clients. And since the mid-80s, they've used 20-20 CAP Studio to help do it.

Defying the downward economic trend, the company recorded one of the best years in its history in 2002. In fact, streamlining their specifying process and boosting employee productivity helped Parron Hall become the second largest dealer in the San Diego market.

The historical landmark that houses their offices and showroom in the heart of downtown symbolizes the company's long tradition of quality. And giving their employees state-of-the-art tools has helped ensure a remarkably low level of staff turnover.

For example, CAD System Manager Nita Sani has used CAP Studio for more than a decade. On behalf of Parron Hall's design department, she describes CAP software as "so advanced and user-friendly, you can be 10 times more efficient than working by hand."

The company often handles large, complex projects with 300 or more workstations. "The leaps in efficiency we've achieved with CAP have been wonderful," says Nita. "It has made us even better designers!"

Worksheet templates are a favorite of the design department. "We don't want the client to see list or net prices, only selling prices," explains Nita. "The software lets us set up templates to hide or show different columns, and gives us phenomenal efficiency."

The designers also appreciate Worksheet Subtotals, new in CAP Studio 2.3. "This enables us to do a subtotal by product catalog and determine our project volumes and discounts."

AutoConnectors are another innovation the design department likes.

"A designer's pet peeve is going through a whole project and adding every little doodad," says Nita. "With AutoConnectors, we just tell the software which product we're using and the computer does all the time-consuming grunt work."

Helpful features like these explain why Parron Hall designers stay loyal to CAP... and keep on producing such good work.

"We are extremely happy with the products and services we've received over the past 10 years," says Nita. "We are CAP's biggest fans!"
